Church of the Holy Spirit - 3 Haytown Road - Lebanon, NJ - churchholyspirit.org

OUR MISSION: to become Christ as we serve others, proclaim God's love, and grow in the Spirit

Welcome to the inaugural issue of The Dove, a remodel of Holy Spirit's venerable Trumpeter. This has been occasioned in part by the talented "IT" folks in the parish who have expertly increased the number of ways we have to communicate with each other. Our webmaster, Jan Paxton, and her trusty partner, Fr. John Rollins, keep things current with two email blasts per week and constant updates to the website. Meg McKenna gives us a Sunday bulletin that contains not only the order of the two services (8:00 and 10:00 am), but also announcements of upcoming events. So Father Phil and the Vestry agreed to try out this new format, the intent of which is to spend more of each issue on what we have been doing in the months just past rather than the things to come. We hope you approve. As always, if you are looking for current information we urge you to read the Thursday and Saturday emails bulletins and keep up with the website too. Make sure that we have your email address so you don't miss a thing! (See the back cover of this and all future issues for a list of the folks who keep us in motion.) — Vicki Brooks, Ed.

Oh the Barns We Build

The Storyteller weaves a warning
 In a simple and plain way
 About a keeper of fortunes
 Storing them for himself
 And all for his later on

But there is no later
 It turns out we all knew
 The moral to that story
 Is no surprise to anyone
 Who lives for tomorrow

But we build our barns anyway
 From some reason spawned
 the marketplace of fear
 Bought and sold as we are
 By distributors of discontent

All the while unseen souls
 Remain unreaping from the very barns
 They themselves filled
 Migrants minimalized
 Disappeared by owning class

These barns are more disposable
 To be taken down
 Inherited or heaved away
 Our things once precious
 To lay strewn in piles

There are other barns more bleak
 These remain and haunt
 Beyond the grave
 As unwanted as eternal
 Oh these barns we build

Barns of grudge and barns of hate
 Barns of grief and barns of hurt
 Barns of guilt and barns of lust
 Barns of fear and barns of shame
 Barns memorial to all that kills

We would not will them
 These barns built against us
 Our minds recoil
 And reject our own agency
 Vile the claim we wound ourselves

Is there no justice then
 For injuries inflicted
 Maledictions sacralized
 Wickedness in norms and persons
 Vagaries visited by a careless universe

Does not a barn need building
 To stand as evidence
 To all the wrong
 All the wayward
 All the loss

And build them all we do
 Both kinds and all kinds
 Built as they are
 And there they stand
 Some proud and some hiding

These invisible barns
 Are more vivid and ominous
 More vitiating
 Than grabbable things
 Most lasting however unwanted

The barns we build against ourselves
 The ones most bequeathed
 To family and friend
 And stranger alike
 Pass on what should be left

Whether for justice unmet
 Or stockpiled sentiments
 These barns store irrepentance
 By others and ourselves
 Barns in need of demolition

The Storyteller shows us how
 To tear down all the barns
 Every one of them down
 Leveled by tears
 Shed by the Story itself

And those same tears we join
 We shed as much as share
 Our own watering of new life
 The desolation of owning
 Swamped by springs of joy

Here in the flood of our Story
 To cleanse and clean and clear
 Rebuilding lives restoring life
 That cannot be stored only spent
 Is health and hope and healing.

Melodrama

The old woman shuffled from aisle to aisle at the ShopRite.
Her long brown coat was buttoned up, though it was summer.
She carried a straw basket over her arm
and clutched a cane – just for balance, of course.

What else? What else? What have I forgotten?
She couldn't concentrate on her list.
Her thoughts veered back to the summer of 1940, of all things,
When she and Margaret rowed out to the middle of the lake and talked about the men they hoped to marry.
Was it the slant of the sun or the heavy air.
Time to go. Time to go.

A smiling clerk approached, extending her arm, all ingratiation.
Right this way, ma'am, this check-out line is free.
And another big smiler behind the cash register raised his voice,
I can take you now, sweetheart, if you're ready to check out.
She hesitated. What makes him think I'm his sweetheart?
Just put your basket down.

No. I am not ready to put my basket down, not ready to check out.
She swayed slightly, gripping the counter.
The cashier bent toward her in slow motion, his lips moved but no sound came out.
She dropped her cane and sank to the floor.

Desiderata

This world-famous poem begins, "Go placidly amid the noise and haste". It must be one of the best loved poems in the English language, revered by millions as the ideal philosophy of life. Few people realize that it was written, not on a gravestone in an old churchyard, but in 1927 by the Indiana poet Max Ehrmann, who died in 1945 and whose work, until the 1960's, was largely forgotten.

Ehrmann was not afraid to express his thoughts about the evils and scandals he saw around him and in his quest for contentment he turned to nature and the eternal passage of the seasons. His philosophical thoughts are a search for social truth and peace.

In this poem, we find much which has relevance today, when mankind hovers constantly on the brink of annihilation. Through Ehrmann we are led to look again at our twenty-first century values and to turn for truth and reality to the essence of beauty and goodness which lies all around us, if we can but open our eyes and see.

Max Ehrmann was born in Terre Haute, Indiana. He graduated from De Pauw University and went on to do postgraduate studies in law and philosophy at Harvard University. After practicing law for several years he joined the family business but retired ten years later to concentrate on writing. Click this link Desiderata: Original Text to read the poem.

Reflection on The Trinity

The number three! In holy scripture there are numerous examples of things said or events that occur three times in short succession. But what might this mean? Asking the question in this way suggests one and only one answer. Depending on context it might mean different things.

I have chosen three, yes, a triad of examples, that exemplify what I believe to be an important understanding of The Trinity I have overlooked for years. I want to share this thought with you. These examples are from very familiar scripture, new and old.

The first is taken from the gospel of John when Jesus asks Simon Peter three times "do you love me?" By the third time Peter "was grieved" and understandably so. But why does Jesus ask the same question three times of Peter?

The second example I have is taken from the Gospel of Mark. In this familiar story Jesus predicts that Peter will deny Jesus three times "before the cock crows twice" and so Peter does. But why three denials, was not one sufficient?

Lastly, is the story of Samuel and Eli. Samuel is called three times and each time he thinks it is Eli calling him. But, upon the third instance, Eli realizes that it is The Lord calling Samuel. Eli then instructs Samuel, if this happens again say "Speak, LORD, for thy servant hears." Sound familiar – we use this refrain every Sunday. But why does it take three times for Eli to realize what is happening?

One way to view or understand these verses from Holy Scripture is through the lens of The Trinity. The Holy Mystery of the Trinity being a fuller understanding of God.

Peter's denial of Jesus three times was more than denying three times he knew this man Jesus. Peter was doing something more profound. He was denying God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit, each one individually.

Similarly, in the passage from John when Jesus asks Peter if he loves him three times Jesus is giving Peter the opportunity to express his love for God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit three in one.

In the Samuel passage, Eli is awakened to a deeper understanding of The Lord upon the third calling. Although the concept of The Trinity was not developed at the time of Samuel, this reading can be viewed as a harbinger of the later church. Afterall, Samuel was a prophet and this is a story about prophecy.

John.21

[15] When they had finished breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these?" He said to him, "Yes, Lord; you know that I love you." He said to him, "Feed my lambs."

[16] A second time he said to him, "Simon, son of John, do you love me?" He said to him, "Yes, Lord; you know that I love you." He said to him, "Tend my sheep."

[17] He said to him the third time, "Simon, son of John, do you love me?" Peter was grieved because he said to him the third time, "Do you love me?" And he said to him, "Lord, you know everything; you know that I love you." Jesus said to him, "Feed my sheep.

Mark.14

[30] And Jesus said to him, "Truly, I say to you, this very night, before the cock crows twice, you will deny me three times."

[66] And as Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the maids of the high priest came;

[67] and seeing Peter warming himself, she looked at him, and said, "You also were with the Nazarene, Jesus."

[68] But he denied it, saying, "I neither know nor understand what you mean." And he went out into the gateway.

[69] And the maid saw him, and began again to say to the bystanders, "This man is one of them."

[70] But again he denied it. And after a little while again the bystanders said to Peter, "Certainly you are one of them; for you are a Galilean."

[71] But he began to invoke a curse on himself and to swear, "I do not know this man of whom you speak."

[72] And immediately the cock crowed a second time. And Peter remembered how Jesus had said to him, "Before the cock crows twice, you will deny me three times." And he broke down and wept.

1Sam.3

[8] And the LORD called Samuel again the third time. And he arose and went to Eli, and said, "Here I am, for you called me." Then Eli perceived that the LORD was calling the boy.

[9] Therefore Eli said to Samuel, "Go, lie down; and if he calls you, you shall say, 'Speak, LORD, for thy servant hears.'" So Samuel went and lay down in his place.

[10] And the LORD came and stood forth, calling as at other times, "Samuel! Samuel!" And Samuel said, "Speak, for thy servant hears."

Fire and Ice

Some say the world will end in fire,
    Some say in ice.
From what I've tasted of desire
I hold with those who favor fire.
    But if it had to perish twice,
I think I know enough of hate
To say that for destruction ice
    Is also great
And would suffice. — Robert Frost

The Problem at Petco

A SHORT STORY

It all started on a chilly, windy day in December. Even though it was the weekend, my mom was not happy because I kept begging her for a pet. My mom always said "No," but today my mom finally said "Yes!" I had no clue why she agreed but I didn't complain. We finally got to Petco and I had no clue what pet to get. I was about to go see the birds, but then a random cat came over and started rubbing against my leg and purring, and all of a sudden, the cat darted for the door.

A staff member came over out of breath and said, "Have you seen a loose cat running around here?" I guess my mom was still in shock because she just pointed at the door. The girl was about to go outside but another staff member dressed in a tuxedo walked over to us, "CASEY! What in the world is going on?" said the boss. Casey stared at the floor until she started to explain, "Uhm, well a cat kind of escaped from her cage." The boss stared at her in anger. "I can't believe you would let a cat go loose! I understand you're a rookie, but on your first day?" Casey nodded her head and started to jog to the door. "Don't worry boss, I will catch the cat!"

Casey pointed at the large storage bin on the ground, I opened it and grabbed a toy, then headed outside. I stood there for a while waving the toy mouse until I just went inside. Casey came over to me and said, "Any luck, Chloe?" I shook my head, " Nope, the cat just wouldn't budge." The boss came over and crossed his arms. "Let me guess, you didn't have any luck?" Casey nodded her head.

But then she ran over to the storage bin and grabbed some treats and handed them to me. I took the treat and headed outside, the cat slowly came over to me but then I guess it saw something more interesting. I headed back inside and started to mope, until I saw a red yarn sticking out of the box.

I ran over to Casey and said, "Casey! I found a red yarn. Maybe that will help catch the cat and they always say that the 3rd time's the charm!"

Casey smiled and said, "Great idea, I really hope it works or I might get fired!" I grabbed the red yarn and ran outside, I threw the yarn on the ground and the cat slowly started coming towards it. I ran inside and brought Casey outside, as soon as she saw the cat she started beaming.

She grabbed the cat and brought her inside. "You sure are a troublemaker!" Casey said giggling. The boss came over to her smiling, "Well I guess I can't fire you now. But the question is what did you two learn?" Casey and I stared at each other, but then she said, "Well, I guess we learned the importance of teamwork and being able to trust others." I smiled then said, "And we also learned the importance of responsibility." The boss smiled then said "Well I'm glad you learned from your mistake. But get back to work!!" Casey smiled one last time then walked away. I ended up picking out a different cat, but she always reminds me of the day the cat escaped from Petco.

Explore your Celtic Roots

Do you have the travel bug? If so you may be glad to know that Sr. Margo at SSBJ has announced the resumption of tours next year to Lindesfarne, Ireland, Wales, Cornwall and Scotland. We can't do justice to the website in these pages, so click on this live link and start dreaming! <http://celticjourneys.org/>

In addition to sponsoring Celtic Journeys, which Sr. Margo has led on behalf of the Convent of St. Joseph in Mendham since 1999 (with an interruption for the pandemic) they had time to do some writing. Not a short story like Chloe, but a book about a visitor who came to live with them and stayed throughout its long life. Not Just an Ordinary Pony is the book. It's sold through www.mecolman.com, and all of the convent's proceeds go to fund the work of the sisters.

Summer Fun at CHS and Beyond

Take us out to the ball game! Somerset Patriots July 9th

*Diocese of NJ Choir Camp Evensong finale July 22nd.
(can you spot our chorister, Melissa Olsen?) Held every year in Cape May. Who will attend from CHS next year?*

Cooking with Father Phil. The June 30th version was hybrid—five children “live” and two Zoomers learned to make grilled shish kebab and guacamole.

Summer Fun Continued

Vacation Bible School featured the 23rd Psalm. The young people learned "The Lord is My Shepherd" from the Vicar of Dibley theme song. They also visited some four-legged members of the parish who live nearby. Photos by Eva Lesniak.

Alas, we said farewell to Julie Stine as she prepared to take up a new job in the Caribbean. We will miss her many contributions to our lives together.

On August 28th many CHS parishioners and friends were treated to an extraordinary concert by our Music Director and concert pianist, Alexei Tartakovsky. The concert was by way of a "dress rehearsal" for the one he had been invited to give in Bonn, Germany roughly a week later. We are blessed to have him on organ and piano, and leading the choir, back home in NJ.

Some of the Artists in Our Midst

Roberta Maas had a successful career as an artist/illustrator. This pencil drawing, titled "Wrasse", won first prize at a recent Hunterdon County senior show. It's now headed for the state exhibit. You may recall, also, the terrific piece she created for presentation to Sarah Shive as thanks for her expertise in helping so many of us attain our first vaccinations in the early days of Covid. (See the June-August 2021 issue of The Trumpeter, p. 16). She takes a number of art classes in the county, among them Whitney Wetherill's twice-weekly Zoom class, one of the first offerings of CHSchool, which continues more than two years later.

June Filipski has a wonderful eye for photographs. Her "Sky Bridge," right, won first place in the 48th Annual Hunterdon County Senior Art Show in the Amateur Photography category. June sent some terrific sunflower photos along too, one of which is featured on the front cover.

Marge Keller is a master quilter, in addition to her other talents. She seems to whip out these creations effortlessly (that is, if you have no idea of what's involved). I know she's not the only fabric artist in the congregation.....perhaps someone will step up for the next issue?

A number of CHS artists create beauty and warmth with knitting needles and crochet hooks. Some of them meet Monday afternoons from 1-3 at the church. You might want to join them! These hats are destined for the Seafarers Institute at the Port in Newark (thanks Fr. Rollins!).

More Folks Who Contribute to our Lives

There are many talented musicians at CHS in addition to Alexei (see page 9 for a photo of his recent concert). Trish and Ellie provided music on a summer Sunday with our thanks and appreciation.

June 26th marked Jeff and Jane Anderson's final shift as active members of the Tewksbury First Aid and Rescue Squad, which they joined in the early 1990s. You may know that they also run blood drives at CHS on a regular basis. They will still be peripherally involved in the Squad, as they are in so many other community activities.

Susan and Bob Kane volunteer at Edna Mahan Correctional Facility as part of the Puppies Behind Bars program. Each week they take a puppy in training to be socialized outside the prison walls, something that the residents there are unable to do. For more information, click on the link below.

Eva Lesniak, Fr. Phil and Marge Keller celebrated The Rev. Canon Dr. Francisco Pozo as he retired on June 26th following 28 years of ministry in the Diocese of NJ.

What's Coming This Fall?

1. PHOTO DIRECTORY

It has been several years since we had a photo directory update. We would like to plan on creating one this fall BUT we need your help.

Wouldn't it be nice to see all those faces after 2+ years in quarantine. While some folks are slowly returning for worship and social events, we have missed seeing many of you in person.

A new directory will only be feasible only if we have sufficient participation. Will you come have your photo, or a family photo, taken for publication? You would also have the opportunity to purchase photo Christmas cards to send to friends and family far and near.

There will be signups online and the Narthex so you have every opportunity to let us know if we can depend on you. Since we are missing some phone numbers and many email addresses, you will have the chance to help us update our member list for future mailings as well. We urge everyone to fill out the forms even if you do not want your photo taken for a directory listing. Dave Dabour is ready!!!

2. LET'S EAT!

Sunday Monthly Breakfasts are returning to the CHS calendar starting on September 11!!!

We are excited to bring this tradition back to Dove Hall with a refreshed format and fun themes. This year we are hoping to recruit new home cooks to help with the planning and food preparation.

Please consider adding your time and talents to this program. You do not need to be an expert chef. Desire to share a meal with your fellow parishioners is all it takes to get started! Find out more on the website > or speak to Jane Paradiso.

3. BLESSING OF THE ANIMALS

Our four-legged and winged family members could use some of God's love, as St. Francis taught us. On October 2nd they'll have the opportunity at the 10 o'clock service. So make a note on your calendar if you, unlike your editor, have an animal that would willingly travel to church and behave while there. My diva Gracie could sure use the blessings but it would be worth my life to bring her! I suspect we may see Scout, though.

Deacon Michelleslie is hoping that for the entire month of October we will remember pets when we select food to add to the Food Pantry's Red Wagon.

And (#4) Don't forget the 40th Annual Service Auction November 5th

Look for details of all these and other upcoming events in your weekly email blasts, the Sunday bulletin, and on the CHS website. If your email address (or home address if you choose) isn't registered with the office, please, please email admin@churchholyspirit.net and request it be added. We thank you!

What Else is Happening Around Us?

Floral Art Show

OPENING RECEPTION SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

Louise Matarazzo has been coming to church and P6 this summer. [She shows her work as Luisa LoCassio.]

The opening reception will be held from 3pm-6pm this Sunday at

Manning Gallery
1060 US Hwy Rt 22 W
Lebanon, NJ
908-236-0015

Can You Open Your Heart and Your Wallet for a Good Cause or Two?

Lots of folks were traveling this summer for the first time in a couple of years, thanks to the pandemic. Perhaps your pledge to CHS is a bit in arrears. Or maybe you've been meaning to give to a pet charity you support. The CHS website will give you links to our site as well as suggestions for different organizations that could really use assistance. Let's be good Samaritans if we can, and if help is needed in your own life, please ask for it.

Here's a fun fact about bees , most of them are actually allergic to pollen .
When exposed to pollen they develop hives .

Did you know that Eva Lesniak and Eleanor Tessier have become avid and knowledgeable beekeepers this year? And they've even shared a bee skip with Fr. Phil. We look forward to tasting the fruits of their labors....

Quilt Show

Courthouse Quilters Guild announces its 2022 Quilts in the Mill Show and Boutique. It takes place Friday September 30th through Sunday October 2nd. Over 200 Quilts will be on display. For more information go to the Guild's website, www.CourthouseQuilters.org

Mid-Term Elections take place on November 8th

(In NJ it's permissible and very simple to vote by mail earlier than that, and you don't have to wait on line to do it). If you live in Hunterdon County and need assistance, check out this website, [Hunterdon County Clerk's Office](http://Hunterdon County Clerk's Office) The office is located on Main Street in Flemington and the staff has all sorts of information available to give you.

During the pandemic, when so much of our worship continues to have a virtual component, check the CHS website and the Thursday and Saturday CHS News for updated information. If you aren't on our email list, you'll miss a lot. Especially if you're new to our parish, make sure we know how to reach you! Don't assume that we do — nobody's perfect and there are no mind readers here! If we have your email and you aren't receiving the weekly CHS News and other announcements, you might want to check your Spam folder. Zoom and Facebook Live are simple to use. Ask if you need help. We want you with us!
